

Press Release, October 10 2008: GERMAN DESIGN EXHIBITION AT SHANGHAI INTERNATIONAL CREATIVE INDUSTRY WEEK 2008

Berlin China Cultural Bridges is proud to present Germany at Shanghai International Creative Industry Week 2008, Shanghai's most important platform for design.

German Design was always setting new standards, creating strong and international renowned brands, marked by names as Audi, Braun, Porsche, Siemens – if only to name a few. With their unique branding, these brands stand not only for highest quality, but also for an unobtrusive design focussed on functionality – attributes regaining importance in the times of globalization, as they create distinctive identities which are essential to succeed in international markets.

The participants of the German exhibition work in this tradition. Furthermore, collaborating with their branch offices in China, they gained wide experiences in local markets over the years. By this means, they demonstrate how to successfully challenge projects – be it in Germany, in China or internationally. They are creative, flexible and intuitive while upholding their identity and bringing it into their products and projects:

- Logon Architecture – combining the knowledge of international architects with the solid experience of its Chinese staff and partners
- Luxoom – creating fascinating product experiences for brands such as Porsche, MINI, Volkswagen and Audi in China
- Mediaman, providing high-end interactive concepts and designs for international brands in China as well as Chinese brands entering international markets
- Playze Architects – exploring mobility and intercultural exchanges in global market niches with offices in Germany, Switzerland and Shanghai

The exhibition is held under the patronage of the Consulate General of the Federal Republic of Germany Shanghai. Berlin China Cultural Bridges and the participating agencies are looking forward to contributing to the Shanghai Creative Industry Week 2008 and to extending the successful collaboration with the organisers.

BACKGROUND

SHANGHAI INTERNATIONAL CREATIVE INDUSTRY WEEK

On October 16 – 21, 2008, Shanghai will hold the „2008 International Creative Industry Week“. The Week’s activities base on the topic of „Brilliant Creativity – Design Future“, comprising three parts of content - Shanghai International Creative Industry Expo, Shanghai International Urban Creative Industry Forum and Shanghai „Creativity Pageantry“ Awarding Ceremony.

The activities will be of the largest scale after International Creative Industry Week’s past three sessions since it launched in 2005. This session will set up the IF China Award under co-operation with German’s IF Design Award, and will present part of the IF China’s awarded works. The Forum, as a major part of the activities, in particular invited 11 directing members from ICSID – International Community Society of Industrial Design, to have face-to-face dialogues and communications with domestic creative designers, discussing how to make Shanghai the future metropolis of creativity.

Beside Germany, also Denmark, UK, Australia and the Netherlands will participate with exhibitions.
